

Jonathan B. Walker

Chief Growth Officer

Jon Walker is the Executive Vice President and Chief Growth Officer of ViaPath Technologies. In this role, Walker leads the performance of the Business Development organization and drives its efforts from strategy through execution. He is also responsible for net sales growth and profitability in line with annual targets, and creating a dynamic sales team and culture.

Walker has more than 27 years of Business Development management experience in the areas of sales planning, revenue productivity, sales training, new market development, proposal management, client services, marketing, government affairs, public relations, marketing, and leadership.

Prior to joining ViaPath Technologies in 2016, Walker was the Executive Vice President and Chief Development Officer at Corizon Health, Inc., where he developed and implemented the company's strategic business development plan that included action plan details designed to target existing business and new business growth opportunities and include key operations and subject matter experts.

Walker earned his Bachelor of Science degree in business and marketing from Murray State University in Murray, Kentucky.

