3.5 Calling Using Prepaid Debit Accounts

A Prepaid Debit Account allows each Incarcerated Person the option to transfer funds from his/her personal account to his/her telephone account or to purchase a voucher to add funds the Prepaid Debit Account. The transfer of funds is managed by Correctional Institution personnel or through a direct interface between the commissary system and/or booking account and the Incarcerated Person phone system. The Prepaid Debit Account is associated with the Incarcerated Person's Personal Identification Number (PIN.) When the Incarcerated Person places a call, he/she has the option of making a Collect call or using funds from the Prepaid Debit Account. Once the Prepaid Debit Account is selected, the Incarcerated Person enters the PIN and called telephone number. All deposits to the account are paid to and handled by the entity managing the account, e.g., jail management system, Institution, commissary, etc.

The Company's system automatically informs the Incarcerated Person of the available usage balance remaining in the Prepaid Debit Account and provides prompts to place the call by entering the destination telephone number. Usage is deducted from the available balance in the account on a real-time basis as the call progresses.

Unless state law or a Correctional Institution requires a different practice, reasonable efforts will be made to refund any unused funds in a Prepaid Debit Account to the Incarcerated Person upon release of the Incarcerated Person from the Correctional Institution. Refunds are issued by the entity managing the account, which depending on the specific arrangements, is either the Company, the commissary, the Correctional Institution itself or its agent, unless otherwise directed by state law.

All safety and security measures and Incarcerated Person calling restrictions as set forth elsewhere in this Price List are also applicable for any calls made using a Prepaid Debit Account.

Funds in the Customer's account may be used for payment of Collect calls placed by Incarcerated People to only those telephone numbers specified by the Customer. Establishment and maintenance of an account are required to complete Collect calls to Customers served by local exchange carriers with which the Company does not have an existing direct billing and collection agreement.

Customers may also review their account online or contact the Company's toll-free customer service number for account balance information at any time. If the account balance is insufficient, calls placed to the numbers specified by the Customer will not be completed until the account is replenished.

Account holders may seek a refund of unused balances by contacting customer service. Unless applicable law or a Correctional Institution requires a different practice, accounts will become inactive after 180 consecutive days of inactivity or non-use and are subject to conversion as set forth below after 270 consecutive days of non-use or no activity. The Company will make reasonable efforts to inform account holders that their account has unused funds. If the account holder provides sufficient contact information and affirmatively agrees to receive notifications, the Company will provide text message and/or email notice to the account holder of unused funds. Account holders will have 270 days from the date of the last activity associated with the account to request a refund of any unused account balance. After 270 days of continuous account inactivity, any remaining funds will no longer be available and will be automatically converted to (and used to pay for) audio calling minutes in the Company's free calling program.
